O thou who wast a struggler for the vir - - - tues, as a true warrior of Christ God thou didst contend greatly against the passions in this tran - si - tor - y life, becoming a model for thy disciples in chanting, the keeping of vig - ils and fasts. Wherefore, the all-holy Spirit made his abode with-in — thee, by Whose activity thou wast splen - did - ly a-dorned.

as thou hast boldness before the Holy Tri - ni - ty, be thou mind-ful of the flock which thou hast assembled, O wise one, and forget it not, as thou hast pro - - mised, vis - it - ing thy chil - dren,

O Sergius, our venerable fa - - ther.

September 25: St. Sergius of Radonezh
Kontakion, Tone 4

Woun-ded with the love of Christ, O ven' - ra - ble one, and fol-low-ing

Him with un-wav - er - ing de-sire, thou didst de-spise all the de-light of the flesh, and has shown forth like the sun up - on thy na - tive land; where-fore, Christ hath en-riched thee with the gift of mir - a - cles.

Kontakion of St. Sergius be thou mind-ful of us who honor thine all-radiant mem - or - y,

The first system of the musical score consists of two staves. The upper staff is in treble clef with a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The lower staff is in bass clef with the same key signature. The music is written in a style typical of Russian Orthodox chant, featuring a series of chords and single notes. The lyrics are written below the upper staff.

that we may cry to thee: Re-joice, O di-vine-ly wise Ser - gius!

The second system of the musical score also consists of two staves in the same key signature and clefs as the first system. The music continues with similar chordal and melodic patterns. The lyrics are written below the upper staff. The system concludes with a fermata over the final note of the upper staff.
