

December 10: Martyrs Menas, Hermogenes and EUGRAPHUS Stichera of "Lord I have cried"

Tone 1, Special Melody "O all-praised martyrs..." - Optina Hermitage

O all - praised mar - tyr Me - nas, when thou wast smit - ten on thy heels, thine eyes put - out, and thy divinely elo-quent tongue re-moved, thou didst en-dure stead - fast-ly, look - ing for di-vine re-wards. Where-fore, pray thou, that God grant to our souls peace and great mer - - - cy.

The glo - ri - ous Her-mog - gen - es loved the sev - er - ing of _____ his _____ hands and the re-mov - al of _____ his _____ feet; and gazing at the fire he showed forth a yet great - er ar - dor of heart, cleav - ing un - to God. To Him doth he now pray, that He grant our souls peace and great mer - - - - cy.

Your mem-bers bro-ken, O wise saints, ye were cast into the depths of the sea; and by the hand of the Most High ye were guided to the calm ha - ven of de-light, hav - ing drowned the malice of the ser - pent. Where-fore, pray ye, that God grant our souls peace and great mer - - - cy.

English translation by Isaac E. Lambertsen, "The Menaion of the Orthodox Church", Vol IV, St. John of Kronstadt Press, ©1996. The entire service text may be purchased through: sjkp.org

Carol Surgant
music.urssianorthodox-stl.org 12/18/07